To whom it may concern

I am very pleased and confident to recommend Swiftsure based on the years of build, repair and maintenance services they have provided to the CLA at our Belgrave Square Head Office in London.

From placing service calls to initiating major projects, right through to completion of the jobs, my experience has been 100% positive!

Swiftsure provide a cost effective and professional service and have been able to maintain a perfect balance between the two. They have found a way of being able to make me, the customer, feel as though I am receiving a special and personal service, all the while fulfilling their services at the highest professional standard.

Their reliability is second to none, and I would go so far as to suggest than more often than most they go above and beyond the call of duty.

They don't promise more than they can fulfil and keep you in the picture at all times.

Most work is carried out by their in house tradesmen and when they do not have the specialists required for a particular job, which only happens very rarely, they ensure that the right people are engaged and they project manage them so it is totally transparent and effortless from our point of view.

I am very grateful for the service they have provided to us over the years and they do make my life as Head of Facilities so much easier and less stressful.
